6.0 Controls and Observers

6.1 Controls

Refer to Chapter TC5 of the C.A.M.S.N.S.W. Touring Code (Provisional). Observations in the form of questions at specific distances or unmanned passage controls during the event will be required to be written on the competitors' road card in the correct place to verify compliance with the correct route. Examples of control boards will be displayed at the Competitors' briefing.

Note that all control boards will be located on the left hand side of the road. A VCR board will be found in the first kilometre (0.621mls) of any section of unsealed road that forms part of the correct route.

Major controls will be opened at specified times as published. As this is an untimed Event all controls will be closed by the sweep car or should the sweep car be delayed due to unforeseen circumstances at the time he would be expected to arrive. There is no penalty for late arrival at any control other than a division start while the control remains open.

6.2 Observers

At certain points around the course there may be observers checking compliance with the instructions. Any crews detected on the wrong route will be given a penalty as listed in clause 5.3. All control officials are deemed to be observers and judges of fact.

7.0 Route Instructions

7.1 Different instructions will be provided for each class. Apprentice entrants will receive similar instructions to the Masters with additional helpful instructions. Tour instructions will be predominately route charted but some simple map reading and other instructions may also be used however a full route chart will be available in a sealed envelope if required.

Instructions may be given in a number of ways and may include grid references for 1:250,000 scale survey maps, tulips, map traces, compass bearings, herringbones, route chart, cross references plus others at the discretion of the Director.

All cross references will be defined precisely e.g. Parramatta Post Office, Hornsby Railway Station, will be the precise points for the beginning of the line to be drawn.

In the event of no precise point being given, the point will be defined as the centre of the letter of the location underlined e.g. Canberra, where the letter b is underlined. This will be the precise point for the beginning of the line to be drawn.

The route is given and is to be followed along the shortest mapped route (unless stated otherwise), point to point through all given points as per the official maps. Where it is required that entrants derive a course between points that complies with intermediate route instructions, then it shall be permitted to comply with such instructions in any order while deriving the shortest mapped route between points You may only use roads that are shown on the official maps unless specifically instructed otherwise. A named point may be visited again without being specified in the instructions provided that it has first been entered as specified in the instructions. Please note that roads cannot be used in both directions on the same division unless specifically instructed to do so. Clause 3.6 e is replaced by The correct route will be visually and measurably shorter.

Official maps will be provided to competitors with instructions and are the only correct maps. Additional maps may be issued with route instructions at various points. Large-scale maps take precedence over small-scale maps unless specifically stated in the instructions to use a particular map. (The smaller the second number of the scale, the larger the scale). If instructed to use an unmapped road, crews are to rejoin the mapped road as soon as possible as per the instructions.

All competitors are required to obey all road rules all the time. No service crews or vehicles are permitted. Competitors are reminded that their comprehensive insurance may not be applicable to any or all parts of the Event and should check with their insurers if in doubt. No radio transmitters, or GPS devices (unless used for distance recording only) are permitted in the passenger compartment of any competing cars. Mobile telephones (for emergency use only) may be carried but must not be used unless in an emergency. Spot checks may be done during the Event. A competitor who retires from the Event must immediately notify the organisers of their withdrawal. A mobile phone number will be provided by the organisers.
